

Welcome and thanks for using Cambian Navigator! When you use our services, we promise to protect your privacy as outlined in this privacy statement.

1 Introduction

Cambian Navigator is a personal health record (PHR) system that enables you to control how your personal health information is accessed, used and shared.

Here are some definitions to help you better understand the terms that we are using within this privacy statement.

1.1 Background

Cambian Navigator is a personal health record (PHR) system that helps users enter, collect, store, analyze and share their personal health information online. The system allows users to manage many different types of personal health information such as medication history, allergies, physician and hospital visit records, immunization records, lab results, data originating from health and fitness devices (e.g., pedometers, blood glucose monitors, blood pressure monitors), data from other health related applications (e.g., chronic management applications, fitness training applications, weight loss applications, blood pressure applications), medical questionnaire results (e.g., medical clinic intake questionnaires, patient reported outcome [PRO] questionnaires, patient reported experience [PRE] questionnaires) and much more. Various features within the application enable you to control how your personal health information is accessed, used and shared.

3.2 Limits on Collection

Cambian collects only the personal information that is required our services and then only with your express consent, unless compelled otherwise by law.

Cambian uses your personal information in order to enable you to use our software.

You are providing Cambian with consent to use your personal information when you consent to our Cambian User Agreement and use our software.

Any aggregated and anonymized data created by Cambian is stored separately from personal information and does not identify individuals.

You can request copies of your personal information records and correct any inaccuracies by contacting Cambian.

for services to be provided to willing participants on the software, to facilitate the provision of care and communicate with you. Cambian does not collect any other personal information, or allow personal information to be used for other purposes without your express consent, except in the case of anonymized data or where compelled to do so by law.

3.3 Use and Disclosure

Cambian uses your personal information in order to enable you to use our software. Cambian may also disclose your personal information where such disclosure is required by law, such as complying with a subpoena or court order. All other use and disclosure of your personal information is in accordance with your instructions.

3.4 Consent

By consenting to the Cambian User Agreement and using our software, you are providing Cambian with express consent to collect, store, use and disclose your personal information as described above.

To the extent that you have a substitute decision maker, we may require that the individual validate his or her authority to act on your behalf.

Cambian may use information collected through the provision of services on an aggregate and anonymized basis to conduct analyses regarding the utilization of our software and the services provided in conjunction with our software. Any aggregated and anonymized data is the sole property of Cambian and stored separately from all personal information. The extrapolated information does not identify individuals and is not capable of identifying individuals.

You may withdraw your consent to the collection, storage, use and disclosure of your personal information as set out in this statement, subject to any applicable contractual or legal obligation, by contacting Cambian at info@cambian.com. However, the withdrawal of consent will likely result in you no longer being able to access or use Cambian Navigator.

3.6 Protecting Your Personal Information

Cambian ensures that communications and data created and sent using Cambian Navigator is secured at server and application levels with industry-standard encryption, firewalls and computer malware detection and elimination. Cambian operates on a server infrastructure wholly based in Canada and deploys software using best practices of the information security industry. Cambian encrypts your communication to our web application with the same encryption commonly used to protect your online banking activities. Cambian's server infrastructure is designed to continue to operate in the event of a disaster, prolonged electrical outage, or network outage by using multiple redundant connections to the Internet. Server equipment is stored in facilities equipped with state of the art security.

Cambian has taken steps to ensure that all employees, and the third parties with which we contract, understand the sensitivity of personal information and adhere to the protection of personal information as set out in this statement. We educate and train our staff on the importance of protecting personal information and ensure that access is provided only on a "need-to-know" basis. We use roles-based access to ensure that only those who are authorized to access your personal information can access it.

You, and you alone, are responsible for ensuring that you do not disclose your account access information to third parties. This includes, but is not limited to, not disclosing such information to anyone, ensuring that sufficient security software is installed and running on your computer, smartphone or tablet, ensuring that your network firewall is of sufficient quality and that your wireless connection is encrypted to a degree that will prevent third party access. Cambian is not responsible for any failure by you to secure your own device and its access to the Internet or your use of public, unsecured networks. Cambian also is not responsible for any failure by you to eliminate malware. These failures and others can make you vulnerable to privacy breaches and would put you and your data at risk.

3.7 Challenging Compliance

If you have any questions about the application of our corporate Privacy Policy and this Cambian Navigator Privacy Statement to your personal information, or wish to make an inquiry or submit a complaint, you should contact our Privacy Officer at info@cambian.com.
